Message from the CASH President

Donna Hateley, CASH President
Alberta Sports Hall of Fame and Museum

Have you set aside your budget for the 2019 CASH Conference in New Brunswick June 19-21, 2019??

You won't want to miss this exciting and informative get together of Sports Halls of Fame staff from across Canada. Conference site and hotel is the Crowne Plaza Fredericton-Lord Beaverbrook.

Registration fee will be $200, the same as the last conference. More information will be sent out via the CASH mailserv.

Workshops at the conference: Do you have a hot topic you want to discuss? Let me know and I will pass it on to the conference committee.

Members Benefit: CASH has a mailserv list of all of its members which you can use to communicate with each other. This is a great way to find out information from other sports halls of fame and a great way to share information on what you have been doing.

Another benefit is the CASH Handbook for Sports Halls of Fame and Museums which is in the final stages of being updated. It will be available later this year for members.

CASH Membership: 24 organizations and 4 individuals

Education: The mailserv is turning out to be a great way to educate and share information on different topics.

Communication: Over the past year, our social media responses have taken off and are being recognized throughout Canada. Check it out @CanSportHistory

The CASH 2018 Annual General Meeting was held by conference call on April 20, 2018. As we only host a CASH conference and meet face-to-face every 2 years, we need to meet our by-laws obligation of having an AGM every year. All members were invited to participate and the call went smoothly and successfully. The 2019 AGM will be held in New Brunswick and a conference call will be used for the 2020 AGM.

ISHA Conference will be held at the 49ers Hall of Fame in California, September 26 to 28, 2018. If any of the CASH members are attending, I will see you there.

The CASH Executive will continue for another term with elections at the 2019 AGM. All contact information can be found on the last page of this newsletter. Please feel free to contact any of the Executive if you have any questions or feedback.

Have a Great Summer

WHAT'S NEW AT THE ASHFM:

We are super excited to welcome three summer staff: Summer Coordinator Jenna Dudar, Summer Collections & Research Assistant Matt Zentner, and Summer Education Coordinator Lisa Martell. Looking forward to the wonderful things we will accomplish together this summer.

ASHFM has made from changes to the Nomination process. Packages are due September 30th 2018 and the new Inductees will be announced November 2018. The Induction Banquet has not changed dates and we will be celebrating the 2019 Inductees on May 31, 2019.

Exhibits:

The 60th Anniversary exhibits from 2017 have all come down, which has given us the opportunity to change nearly every exhibit in the museum. Our Feature Exhibit 'The Games We Play' welcomes visitors to step back in time and explore the games we loved as youth. The Hall of Fame Gallery currently hosts exhibits about our Teams and the Honoured Members. We are exceptionally proud of all of our teams and the success they have achieved in their sports.

In the months leading up to the Canada Winter Games on February 15 - March 3, 2019, there will be several exhibits rotating through all of the 19 official sports. We're also excited to welcome Special Olympics to our Sporting Organization Showcase in July to celebrate their 50th Anniversary.

Collections:

We have started a De-accession Project. All items that complete the process will be listed through the CASH list-serve in order to keep in the public trust.

Upcoming Events:

The ASHFM hosts its annual Golf Tournament every summer and we would like to invite you to attend! Golf with us Aug 9, 2018 at the Innisfail Golf Course and enjoy a wonderful day filled with great food, beautiful views, and some amazing prizes. HOW ITALY PREPARED ME FOR THE SPORTS INDUSTRY: PASSION

In this world, there are inextricable links behind the most unlikely of fields. The two fields of archaeology and sports are remarkably intertwined when it comes to the passion of an individual. Speaking from personal experience, my archaeological excavation in Italy two years ago was an unbelievable experience; one that is continually shaping me to work in the heritage sector.

In grade five, I first became passionate about history and archaeology when I learned of the ancient Egyptians. Studying ancient Egypt from an early age introduced me to an array of other cultures, which led me to want to help with discovering the world's history. Nine years later, in second year university, the opportunity to help understand the world's past came with an archaeological excavation in Pantelleria, Sicily, Italy, digging ancient Roman ruins. The physical experience of archaeology was quite different than I read about in books; it involved heavy labour – intensive work which was rewarding at every moment when an artefact arose from the soil. The day of an archaeologist involved waking up quite early, gathering gear at the brink of the stunning Pantellerian sunrise, and then digging. Years of passion and dreaming of an archaeological excavation led to this point in my academic career.

In many ways, there are parallels between the archaeological and the sports world when it comes to the passion of the individuals to make a mark in history. One prominent individual, Marlene Stewart Streit, is the best amateur golf player in Canadian history. At the age of fifteen, she would ride her bicycle to the Lookout Point Golf Club and payed for the $25 club membership fee. The coach at the time, Gordon McInnis Sr., trained her for years and then she participated in the Great Britain Women's Amateur Championship in 1953. Individuals such as Marlene started out quite small to becoming the most successful amateur golfer in Canada. From an early age, she was passionate about the sport, just as I became passionate from an early age of archaeology and history. Thus, passion links the most "seemingly" opposing fields and, as a humanist, it binds the power of the human spirit.

HALL HAPPENINGS

The Winnipeg Whisky Festival was held on March 2, 2018 at the Fairmont Winnipeg and was another sell-out and huge success. Presented by Manitoba Liquor Marts, the Festival had some 475 people in attendance this past year. Thanks to Committee chair Bill Wilford and all of the volunteers who make this flagship fundraiser happen!

The Hall of Fame set up a small hockey exhibit at Travel Manitoba at The Forks for the month of March as we celebrated not only the Jets' remarkable season, but our province's overall hockey legacy.

With the Winnipeg Jets magical ride to the Western Conference final came a renewed interest in the AVCO Cup which permanently resides in the Manitoba Sports Hall of Fame thanks to the Shenkarow family. We had a White Out Case in the lobby for hockey fans to reminisce about the three championships won in the 1970s.

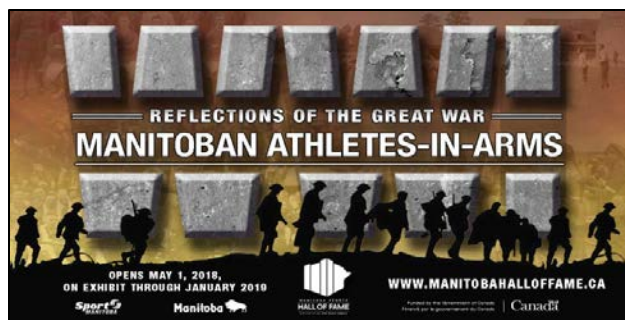

The AVCO Cup also celebrated St. Patrick's Day with Patrik Laine at an autograph session March 17 at Premier Events as fans lined up for over two hours to get the Jet fan favourite's autograph.

The new Feature Exhibit Reflections of the Great War: Manitoban Athletes-in-Arms officially opened May 1 and was well-received. Special thanks go to all of the military organizations and their heritage museums, and to the families of those Honoured members who served, for loaning us their treasures for this unique exhibit. The exhibit celebrates the 100th anniversary of Armistice and will run until the end of the year so be sure to come and see the fascinating role sport played in the great conflict (see promo bottom).

The Hall of Fame once again awarded prizes for the best sport history projects at the annual Red River Heritage Fair held at the University of Winnipeg on May 3.

Big news came on May 8 when the Province of Manitoba announced that the Manitoba Sports Hall of Fame had been designated a Star Attraction. The Museum gallery joined six other new sites and Minister Blaine Pederson attended the media conference to make the announcement. Watch for the blue signs with the big yellow star coming soon in the streets leading to 145 Pacific!

The 1978 Winnipeg Jets (inducted in 2005) celebrated their 40th anniversary of winning that same AVCO Cup and the Hall of Fame was there with them for three days (see photo left) at the host Fort Garry Hotel, at a sponsors' reception at Taylor McCaffrey's offices and for their luncheon at the Fort Garry which raised funds for the Bobby Hull Foundation on May 12. Thanks to Geoff Kirbyson for all of his hard work in organizing the weekend as 15 WHA Jets came into town from all over the world and were guests of the current NHL version Jets for game one vs. Las Vegas. Players included Bobby Hull, Anders Hedberg, Ulf Nilsson, Thommie Bergman, Willy Lindstrom, Joe Daley, Bill Lesuk, Mike Ford, Bill Davis, Bobby Guindon, Gary Bromley, Markus Mattsson, Dave Dunn and Kim Clackson.
